

PSEG

---

Executive Profile

Jorge L. Cardenas

Vice President – Gas Operations

Public Service Electric and Gas Company

Jorge L. Cardenas was elected vice president – gas operations of Public Service Electric and Gas Company (PSE&G), in December 2006. In this role he is responsible for providing gas delivery and appliance repair services to three quarters of New Jersey’s population, overseeing the work of more than 2,000 associates.

Previously, Mr. Cardenas was division manager – gas delivery, directing the construction, operation, and maintenance of the gas distribution system in Northern New Jersey. His career spans 30 years and he has held various positions as well as in electric delivery and corporate services.

Throughout his career at PSE&G, Mr. Cardenas has been a champion for health and safety in the workplace and was recently named chairman of the New Jersey State Safety Council. Active in volunteer efforts, he has been a leader in promoting participation in March of Dimes activities for the last 15 years. In 2005 he was named chairman of the March of Dimes’ Essex County WalkAmerica and will continue through 2007. He has also been named as a member of the March of Dimes board of directors for New Jersey. Mr. Cardenas is a member of the Society of Gas Operators, a member of the Leadership Council of the American Gas Association, and serves on the board of directors of the Northeast Gas Association and Operations Technology Development. He was nominated for and received a New Jersey Minority Achiever’s Award in 2004, and was also selected to attend and complete the Leadership New Jersey program in 2000.

Mr. Cardenas received his bachelor’s degree in engineering from the Stevens Institute of Technology, and completed the Penn State Executive Development Program. He also received his Master of Business Administration degree from Rutgers University’s Executive MBA program. As part of his MBA, he studied international business at Cambridge University in England.