

A message from
Michael S. Paszynsky
PSEG's Vice President
Business Assurance & Resilience

At PSEG, we have a strong, ongoing commitment to protecting our people, critical infrastructure and assets. This mission drives our efforts to continually identify and seek solutions to an ever-broadening and unique set of challenges.

PSEG Business Assurance & Resilience prides itself on being the absolute best at executing its mission. So, what does that mean to us and, more importantly, what does it mean for you? It means . . .

- Continued dedication of our professional staff of security and claims experts who, day-to-day, provide the backbone of proactive and preemptive services to mitigate threats, and to reduce associated risk to lowest acceptable levels, i.e., providing the business with an assurance of reliability as well as resiliency should an adverse event occur.
- Continued focus of our 24x7 Security Command Center and staff, monitoring critical assets, recording events, and interfacing with law enforcement and the businesses' boots on the ground to assure immediate recognition of, and appropriate response to, any event which threatens PSEG's people or assets.
- Continued striving by our entire team for benchmarked, first-quartile excellence in all dimensions of our work, along with recognition by government and peer industry groups as having done so.
- Continued vigilance in regard to emerging issues, by working closely with government and industry groups, such as Arbitration Forums Inc., the New Jersey Office of Homeland Security & Preparedness, the NJ Board of Public Utilities, the FBI's Joint Terrorism Task Force, NERC, PJM, and the NJ State Police and numerous local law enforcement agencies in the 300+ municipalities in which PSEG operates.
- Continued leadership in key industry organizations, helping to mold future direction, and contributing our expertise to shaping new legislation and regulations in our areas of responsibility.

Our mission and goals demand the best of us in support of the PSEG vision, "People providing safe, reliable, economic and green energy. Our department's slogan, "Incremental progress . . . every day," points to our dedication to continuous improvement in assuring a safe, secure environment to help achieve this vision.

Michael S. Paszynsky