A programmable thermostat can save you money.

Why fully heat your home when you're not there? If you use a programmable thermostat to automatically turn down your heat by 10-15 degrees for eight hours, you can save up to 10% on your energy bill. That could be $100 per year! At PSE&G, we want to help you manage your energy costs. This and other valuable tips are available to our customers in a free brochure, Energy Savers.
